Classroom Updates

Math Mrs. Lloyd	Social Studies Mrs. Murrell	Science Mrs. Lloyd	ELA Mrs. Murrell
Students are working on unravelling multiplication and division word problems. We are having alot of fun acting out word problem skits to help visualize the use of math in every day situations. We are still having fun with our Fantasy Football teams. Next week...dividing with 2 digit divisors	Students participated in a group project demonstrating their knowledge of budgets and spending and savings. Students learned that taxes affect our budgets and spending.	Students are researching the different types of terrestrial biomes and why they are all so different due to their location. I will be collecting their notebooks to review their note taking skills and summaries. Next week: looking at aquatic biomes	In Reading, students practiced how to think analytically about reading. Students used guiding questions to help support this skill. Students also realized the importance of revising their writing well about reading in order to grow as readers. In Writing, students continued to generate personal narratives. Students practiced the techniques of using details that ring true to the event. They also took stock of their writing thus far and set new goals. Students used a narrative checklist to measure up their writing and set new goals.
